"Milton Keynes is an ideal location for recruitment."

Rightmove, the UK's leading property website, relocated its head office to Milton Keynes in May 2005 – and has grown significantly as a result.

More than half of all UK estate agents advertise their properties on Rightmove.co.uk, displaying properties worth over £146 billion and generating over 22 million visits and 455 million page views in a month. Eight of the top ten corporate estate agents (those with 100 or more branches) currently list their properties on the site.

Rightmove's new office in Grafton Court in the west end of the city accommodates the customer service team, home information pack operations, marketing and finance departments. Since being in Milton Keynes the business has experienced significant growth and increased staff by 50% in just three months, largely as a result of a highly successful recruitment drive in the city.

For both businesses that rely on local markets and for those with national reach like Rightmove, the doubling of Milton Keynes population will result in considerable new business potential. Miles Shipside, Commercial Director commented: "With its growing population, Milton Keynes is an ideal location for recruitment. We had outgrown our existing premises in Bedfordshire and looked for larger premises to accommodate our expansion. Milton Keynes' transport infrastructure, well-trained workforce and high-quality office space were key factors in the decision to relocate. Our office is also close to Milton Keynes Central Railway Station and the M1, making it easily accessible for our customers and employees."

With 22 million visits and 455 million page views in a month, Rightmove.co.uk is officially the UK's 10th largest website and the UK's leading property portal. It typically lists more than 825,000 properties in the UK and overseas at any one time.

Rightmove expanded into Milton Keynes in 2005.
